

Best Caption Award Champion

Students name: Yoyo Poon (S.3), Yan Fong (S.3), Chloe Cheung (S.3),

School: Shung Tak Catholic English College

Entry No: 157

Theme: Love

Division: S.1 – 3 S.4 – 7

Title: Love for the "troublemakers"

Max.8 words

Picture:

(less than 2MB size)

Caption: Two girls are kissing their grandma. Their grandma is smiling very happily. It looks so warm!

Max.30 words

Inspired and Supported by:

Commentary:

S.1 – 3:

100 – 200 words

Have you ever kissed your grandparents like the two girls in the photo? Nowadays, many people think that their grandparents and their parents are very troublesome. It is because they are very old and they can't take care of themselves. They fall back on the youngsters to take care of them. Therefore, they are labeled as troublesome and lengthy.

S.4 – 7:

200 – 300 words

Have you finished all your homework?

Have you put on your coat?

These are the words that we always hear from our elders. Many youngsters pay no attention to these words. However, have the youngsters ever thought their elders said those things because of their concern and love to us? Our elders just want us to grow healthily. Whenever they do anything, they surely think of us first. Whatever they do is good for us. Actually, elders need our concern. In the past, elders took care of us. As they get old, they can't do everything as handily as when they were young. That's why we have to help and take care of them. One day, all of us will become old too. You don't want your offspring to leave you alone and label you as troublesome and lengthy, do you? So, start to love and care for your elders!

Inspired and Supported by:

